

EVENT REPORT

FREE EID TREATMENT CAMP 2016

Vet Crescent Society is a registered society of University of Veterinary and Animal Sciences and is working for the welfare for animals by organizing multiple activities round the year. An important part of our welfare work is Free Eid Treatment Camp which is organized each year in local cattle market and sacrificial animals are treated free of cost for different ailments.

This year Vet Crescent Society arranged a 5 days Free Eid Treatment Camp starting from September 06, 2016 to September 10, 2016 in cattle market, Shahpur Kanjraan, Lahore. A large number of undergraduate and postgraduate students from UVAS participated in the camp with full zeal & zest. Various clinical aspects of diagnosis and medication were demonstrated including general and physical examination, auscultation, percussion, intra-muscular and intra-venous medication, wound dressing etc.

A large number of ailments in different animals including sheep, goat, cattle and camel etc. were successfully dealt with free of cost. Major conditions observed were related to metabolic and respiratory issues including anorexia, dysorexia, constipation, diarrhea, lactic acidosis, pyrexia, upper respiratory tract infection, maggot wounds, abscess etc. Self-protection measures were adopted and students participating in the camp were provided with gloves, masks, head covers etc. Society also provided refreshments and certificates to the participating students.

We highly acknowledge the support of our Worthy Vice Chancellor Prof. Dr. Talat Naseer Pasha, Patron VCS Prof. Dr. Aneela Zameer Durrani and Cattle Market Management Company Lahore Division for facilitating us in arrangement of this camp. We are also thankful to different pharmaceutical companies including Star Laboratories, Selmore Pharmaceutical (Pvt) Ltd, Prix Pharmaceuticals (Pvt) Ltd and Leads Pharma Pvt Ltd which generously sponsored us with medicines for the camp.

Regards,
Asaad Ghafoor
President VCS
